

Carsey-Wolf CENTER FOR FILM, TELEVISION AND NEW MEDIA

2007 SANTA BARBARA INTERNATIONAL FILM FESTIVAL PANEL

FREE for UC Santa Barbara students with a valid student ID

General public admission rates: $12 for a single event, one festival mini-pak ticket, or show your SBIFF Platinum or Cinema pass at the door

PANELISTS INCLUDE:

- Ed Begley, Jr., Actor, Environmental Activist and Star of HGTV's Living with Ed
 - Matthew Cooper, Entertainment and Environmental Attorney and Production Legal Consultant to the Lord of the Rings trilogy
 - Mark Shelley, Executive Director, Sea Studios Foundation and Series Producer, National Geographic Television and Film
 - Mike Slavich, Manager, Environmental Initiatives, Warner Bros.
 - Brenda Smyth, State of California Integrated Waste Management Board, Technical Specialist, Sustainability in the Motion Picture Industry.
- Introductions by Anna Everett, Chair, Department of Film and Media Studies.
 Moderated by Constance Penley, Professor of Film & Media Studies, Co-Director, Carsey-Wolf Center for Film, Television, & New Media.
 Presented by the UC Santa Barbara Department of Film and Media Studies
 & the Carsey-Wolf Center's Environmental Media Initiative.

LOCATION LOCATION

MEDIA AND THE ENVIRONMENT

JANUARY 31

7:00-9:00 PM

Marjorie Luke Theater

Santa Barbara Junior High School

721 E. Cota Street

Santa Barbara, CA 93103

www.cftnm.ucsb.edu

Tickets can be purchased in advance at the Lobero Theater, 33 East Canon Perdido (805) 963-0761, at the Arlington Theater, 1317 State Street (805) 963-4408, or at the door.